

SIMPLE WAYS TO SAVE ENERGY & $$ IN YOUR BUSINESS

Do you want to reduce your energy
bills?
Not sure where to start?

Join us with Rob Gell
who will host a panel discussion to help provide answers to your questions.

Rob Gell spent many years presenting the weather on Channel 10 News. With over 30 years working with and talking to communities and business, he is a respected authority on environmental issues and business systems management.

This session will be great for commercial building owners and businesses interested in improving their sustainability through guaranteed solutions to reduce environmental impact and costs to the business.

Come and learn about how to cut your energy bills, the availability of energy assessment grants and financing options for initiatives. Local service providers to help you put it all into action will be available to provide advice.

This event will be an expo style networking event with short presentations and displays detailing real case study results from local businesses who have saved energy and $$.

Tea coffee and light breakfast refreshments available.
